

My prayer, as a mother, is "to turn the heart of the Father to the children, and the heart of the children to their Father". Malachi 4:6

I have loved my children with an everlasting Love, for they know that our Heavenly Father looks upon them with gentle eyes and says, "My beloved children I will raise you up to soar on eagles wings. You will no longer be hungry and unclothed; I will fill your minds and hearts with my wisdom and understanding revealing to children the depths of who I am".

They will walk knowing how to carry confidence with humility. They will know who they are and hold their heads up with dignity. I will give them the best of who I am. God gave me an amazing vision. It seemed unreal and almost impossible; a distant reality. Tears streamed down my face as I felt in my heart a great need for the care and housing of children not only for the United States but also for the nations. I truly believe today that this high end orphanage WILL become a reality. What the enemy intended to destroy, God is going to restore one hundred fold.

I envisioned an empty 19th century Episcopal, Lutheran or Catholic Church, no pews are present. It was an empty shell except the beautiful stained glass windows that remained. The church has a lush red carpet below and wooden ceiling beams above. As the sun shines through the stained glass windows, beautiful rays of bright color fill the large sanctuary, amplifying the high arched ceilings drawing your eyes to the beautiful wooden structure and design. I envisioned children dancing on the red carpet, their heads held high with dignity, enjoying the rays of sun. The vision included a stunning baby grand piano next to one of the stained glass windows. A child is receiving piano lessons from a well-known musician. The children will receive one-on-one tutoring for their education. This is a place of security, to be loved and grow in new beginnings. The church is renovated to accommodate housing for children/orphans. The reconstruction is high-end design with beautiful interiors from well-known designers. The vision I received took my breath away.

I heard the Father say "I have set you aside and allowed you to endure the trials of the last seven years to be able to carry the destiny I have set before you". "My children will have the best of the best. I have called you to love them with a mother's heart and shower them with all the wisdom and love that you have been granted from me. I am raising a generation that will know me and know who I am. They will be loved and cherished, well-educated and run with confidence". Take care of the children that will be birthed into the nations, and wisdom to stand for justice.
